Read this document before pricing. It sets out what must be returned, in what form, and exactly how tenders will be evaluated. The evaluation criteria and their weightings are published in section 3 — a tenderer who knows how they will be marked can put effort where it counts, and an award made against published weightings can be explained to those who did not win.

1 · CONTRACT TO BE ENTERED INTO

NEC4 Engineering and Construction Subcontract, Option A — priced contract with activity schedule — with the Z clauses issued at Appendix 3. The conditions are issued with this invitation and are not negotiable after return.

2 · WHAT MUST BE RETURNED

Returns that cannot be compared cannot be scored. Use the schedules as issued.

1. Form of tender, signed
2. Pricing schedule as issued, unaltered in structure
3. Method statement, maximum eight sides
4. Programme, showing the interface dates at Appendix 2
5. Key personnel, named, with the percentage of their time committed
6. Schedule of departures from the Employer's Requirements, priced separately

A return that alters the pricing schedule cannot be compared with the others and will be marked accordingly.

3 · HOW TENDERS WILL BE EVALUATED

Published before tenders are returned, and applied without change afterwards.

Quality 60%, price 40%.

Quality is scored 0–5 against eight criteria whose individual weightings are published at Appendix 1. A score of 3 meets the requirement; 4 and 5 require evidence in the tender rather than an impression of the tenderer.

The lowest compliant price scores full marks and the others in proportion. A tender more than 25% below the mean will be asked to explain its price in writing before it is either excluded or accepted.

4 · CLARIFICATION PROCEDURE

Answers are issued to every tenderer. Anything else is not a competition.

By email to the address at Appendix 2, by the clarification deadline above. Every question and its answer is issued to all tenderers without attribution. No answer given by any other route may be relied on.

5 · CONDUCT OF THIS TENDER

Tendering costs lie with the tenderer. Canvassing any officer or adviser of the client, or any agreement with another tenderer as to price or content, will disqualify. The client is not bound to accept the lowest or any tender.

The client is not bound to accept the lowest or any tender, and reserves the right not to award. Tendering costs lie with the tenderer. Canvassing, or any agreement with another tenderer as to price or content, will disqualify.
